

One week until European HIV-Hepatitis Testing Week!

17-24 November 2017

Next week, over 620 partners throughout Europe will unite for the same cause: to increase awareness regarding the benefits of HIV and hepatitis testing.

It is time to make those final finishing touches on your Testing Week materials and get ready for the start of Testing Week!

Evaluate your success!

Are you conducting testing activities during Testing Week? If so, we recommend monitoring the success of your testing week activities!

But how?

By downloading the ETW testing data monitoring form on our website and keeping track of the amount of tests done the week before TW, the week during, and the week after TW. This is a great way to see how your hard work during Testing Week has made a difference in getting people tested.

We also recommend downloading Toolkit 7 to help guide you in monitoring and evaluating any of your media activities.

Remember: When you're done monitoring your testing activities, to please send your ETW monitoring spreadsheets to hie.rigshospitalet@regionh.dk. We would also love to see how well you did and include your data in the 2017 evaluation.

The European Test Finder 2017

The European Test Finder has been updated and is now translatable in four more languages-- which brings the total to SEVENTEEN languages available. Users can search the database in English, German, Spanish, French, Italian, Lingala, Dutch, Portuguese, Russian, Somali, Tigrinya, Swedish + Turkish, Romanian, Ukrainian and Polish (new this year!)

If you are not doing testing activities, the European Test Finder is a great resource to refer people to when asked about testing services. Users can search for their local centre to get HIV, hepatitis and/or STI testing. Or, if you are only conducting HIV testing, you can use the Test Finder to find your nearest centre that offers hepatitis or STI testing for your patients and vice versa!

When was the last time you visited the Materials page on the #EuroTestWeek website?

There have been many updates to the Materials page!

- Logos - The official 2017 logo is available in 12 languages
- The Joint Statement from an alliance of NGOs on safer and voluntary testing for key and most affected populations is available English and Russian
- The ETW Flyer is now available in Russian and Ukrainian.

Be sure to take advantage of all of available materials for your Testing Week activities
