This Monday the 15th of May 2023 marks the start of the Spring European Testing Week. You are invited to watch the live streaming of a launch event that we have organized with the Greek National Public Health Organization and Greek NGO “Positive Voice”, in collaboration with EACS, World Hepatitis Alliance and EATG.

The event titled “Bringing networks together to increase testing for HIV, viral hepatitis and STIs” will be live streamed from Athens at 9.10-11.15 CEST.

The meeting will be opened by the Greek Minister for Health. ECDC will provide an overview of the status on HIV and hepatitis in Europe, Ben Collins (co-chair of the working group of ETW) will talk about how ETW has supported integrated testing in Europe, the COBATEST network will demonstrate the impact of ETW on testing levels in Europe, European AIDS Clinical Society will elaborate on the importance of early testing from a clinical perspective, World Hepatitis Alliance and European AIDS Treatment Group will highlight the gaps in testing for hepatitis and HIV that need to be addressed, and finally two ETW participants (Positive Voice from Greece and GAT Portugal) will provide examples of local ETW campaigns and results.

Tune in to learn more!
